PRIVATE DUCKS

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Duck are in receipt of an extremely interesting letter from their son, Private E. H. Duck, in it he says he has some souvenirs in the form of an old French rifle, probably used in the war of 1870 and certainly in this one.

He had an examination for ball before regular Circuit Judge at Harlan and Judge Davis refused to allow him ball. He then went before Judge Rose of Williamsburg on a writ of habeas corpus and Judge allowed him ball for $8,000.00.

The trial was transferred from the Harlan Circuit Court to the Knox Circuit Court and the trial will come up in April. He had already been convicted of murder and sentenced to the penitentiary for life. He was either pardoned or paroled. Zeb A. Stewart, attorney at Harlan was here representing defendant.

He says "There is a cemetery here called Million Graveyard." Friends and foe alike lie side by side. The great commoner, death, has leveled all differences, and now, in the portentiousness of a new dawn may these sacrifices on the altar of freedom and Christian civilization be an inspiration to the assembled representatives of democracy, met to decide the fate of the world."

The letter closes with an excellent comment on the necessary economic strain of the French, a description of the method of threshing and other farming procedure and has as a sole note of condemnation, the weather.

The writer is no carping critic, but sees cause and effect and views with kindly eyes that which to some of narrow spirit, might seem cause of ridicule.

FELT BIGGER THAN JAY GOULD

Mr. T. J. Kellums of Red House, Ky., who arrived in Harboursville in 1892 without a penny in his pockets and who is now a prosperous farmer in Madison County, states that the first money he earned as a boy of sixteen was forty dollars, which he received while working on this Judge Tuggle farm, now the fair grounds.

When he got the four ten dollar bills he says he felt bigger than Jay Gould in fact he did not know the difference between them. The first state he ever made a figure on he bought from John A. Black now a respected banker of this city, who at that time was running a general store. Mr. Kellums is visiting his sister, Mrs. Joe Sampson and looking up old friends.

He had an examination for ball before regular Circuit Judge at Harlan and Judge Davis refused to allow him ball. He then went before Judge Rose of Williamsburg on a writ of habeas corpus and Judge allowed him ball for $8,000.00.

IN MEMORIAM

On Tuesday, Feb. 4th, Mrs. Ruth Hamilton Sevier, young wife of John R. Sevier, of Barbourville, Kentucky, passed from this life at the home of her father, Dr. J. M. Hamilton, Shawnee, Tenn., leaving a dear little one bearing her name, a sorrowful family and a multitude of friends.

Mr. Sevier returned in December from service in the naval branch of aviation in England and was called from the demobilization camp near New York because of the critical illness of his wife.

Mrs. Sevier, who had just passed her twentieth birthday, was greatly beloved by a large circle of friends. Her sweet disposition, gentle ways, and her music, in which she was proficient, attracted all who came under her influence. She was associated with Lincoln Memorial University both as student and teacher.

Thursday morning at ten she was borne into her home church where the memory of the dear little girl, the dainty young woman, the bride, and the happy mother of but a few days, will long linger. Her pastor, Rev. E. N. Woodward, officiated. A great profusion of lovely flowers most fitting emblem of the pure young life surrounded the casket.

Mr. A. W. Haynes, a family friend, sang two of Mrs. Sevier's favorite hymns and Prof. Nefee of the University, sang "Jesus, Savior, Pilot Me." Miss Manning, teacher and loving friend of Mrs. Sevier, at the piano expressed in the language of music first the grief of separation and later the love and hope of those who know that she is "not dead, but sleeping," and the joy of the life beyond the grave where we shall meet again.

What Oil Means

Tilman Cole, of Bailey Switch, was in town Saturday and reports considerable oil taken out in his neighborhood. There is no drilling going on at present but inside of two weeks it is expected considerable activity will prevail. When Knox County hits the big gusher, Barbourville will become a city of 15,000. This may seem to be an exaggeration, but when we consider that Ranger, Texas, a burg of three hundred people, has reached that figure, it is to be expected that Barbourville will do the same, should we make a big strike.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Hall of North Jellico Lodge No. 320, I. O. O. F.

Whereas: The Supreme Architect of the universe, has appointed unto every man to die, and has fulfilled that decree once more by calling from our midst our worthy brother, Frank Elliott on Jan. 26th 1919.

Therefore be it resolved, that he was a true and faithful member of our Fraternity, whose death has brought upon us a sorrow and sadness which will scarcely be removed during our short life, that he was a constant and devoted member of the Fraternity by which the walks of our members are made nobler and better; that the lodge has lost a true friend and oddfellow, the community a kind and honored citizen and the family a devoted husband and father. That we tender our sincere sympathy to the bereaved family and bid them take hope and consolation in that heavenly assurance that they shall meet him again, where there is no sorrow, pain and death; that while we bow in humble submission to the Divine will, we are deeply sensible of the irreparable loss sustained by our lodge of which he was a most zealous member; that a page be set apart and these resolutions be spread there on. That a copy be furnished the family, and the Mountain Advocate and Carlin Times be asked to publish same.

Done by order of North Jellico Lodge No. 320, I. O. O. F. and is fraternally submitted, in Friendship, Love and Truth, and signed by committee.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

On next Thursday, Feb. 20, 1919, the Barbourville Sub-District group of the Centenary will meet at the Methodist Episcopal Church at 2.30 P. M. The afternoon session will be addressed by some of the leading speakers of the conference.

The night services will open at 7 P. M. Dr. C. H. Fowler of Columbus, Ohio will be the speaker of the evening. Everyone is invited to hear this gifted orator, on the Centenary and what it means to the world in the reconstruction.

Last Sunday morning Dr. J. M. Hinkle of Union College preached on "Thinking." This was a powerful sermon and he certainly drove his message home into the hearts of the congregation.

Prof. D. M. Hunsflect was Minnie Map last Sunday morning and Dr. W. C. Black was Minnie man Sunday evening. Both made good use of their allotted five minutes.

The Sunday School reopened with renewed vigor Sunday morning.

The prayer meeting for the week will be held with Mother Cole in the Gibson Building, at the home of Gov. James D. Black and at the home of Mr. George Hinton, also one at the home of Mr. Wm. Messamore. Let the members of each district attend.

C. A. Sandals of Cleveland, Ohio, who is operating (rubber and charcoal) and eventually chemicals at House, Ky., was in town Tuesday. The whole tract comprises 1400 acres and the plant will consist of four 50 cords kilns to burn charcoal. One is almost completed and work will be resumed on the others next week. He expects to incorporate a company to be known as the Clay Chemical Company. Several houses have been built and others are contemplated.

Cole Hughes & Company have sold out their entire stock of dry goods to E. W. Card & Son of Cave City, Ky., and in the future will devote all their energies to pleasing the public in the grocery, hardware and china line. The big store already has a changed appearance. When the reporter went to the sacred sanctum, known vulgarly as the office, Charley Cole and Mr. Card were pouring over invoices and trying to beat each other out of a fifty. There was no evidence of hostilities, however. The firm asks us to express their deep appreciation for past favors and hope that their friends and customers will drop in at the old stand as frequently as before or more so.

LAME EVERY MORNING

A Bad Back is generally worse in the morning. Barbourville People. A back that aches all day and causes discomfort at night is usually worse in the morning. Makes you feel as if you hadn't slept at all.

You can't get rid of kidney back-ache, until you reach the cause—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for weakened or disordered kidneys—been gratefully recommended by thousands.

The following statement proves the merit of Doan's.

Henry Howard, Prospect Ave., Pineville, says: "About two years ago I had an attack of kidney and rheumatic trouble. I had sharp cutting pains through my limbs and morning I was so sore and lame I could hardly walk. My limbs were swollen and a dent remained in the flesh when I pressed with my fingers. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions contained sediment. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the rheumatic twinges, regulated my kidneys and I was free from all the aches and pains in my back."

From all other Doan's simply ask for it. Buy from any of the Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Howard and Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

GOOD POINTS IN AMERICANS

Mexican Recognizes Attributes He Believes Latins Might Copy to Their Advantage.

Let us recognize this: The poetry of the American character is shown in four directions—to women, to children, to trees and to birds. These men, whom many people unjustly suppose to be rude; these men, who make millions; these men, who maintain the railroads through immense deserts; who build up formidable industries, have in their spirit these four devotions, which honor them vastly and which not a few of us Latins would like to have for the better honor and embellishment of our common existence.

There are in compensation many children and flocks of birds. Children are the kings of the parks. Everything there is for them. They rule over all, and you may see them, as I did, in Rock Creek park (Washington), with their naked legs wading in the many small streams and shouting charmingly while splashing in the crystal of the water. Notwithstanding they are smaller than the children, the birds are little kings as well. Little kings that are respected not only in the air but on the ground. Sparrows I have found on the sidewalks among the hurrying throngs of people, jumping and hopping about. Carlos Gonzalez Pena, in Universal Illustrated, Mexico City.

To Remove Mildew.

It is best to get at mildew stain right away before it has injured. First, try this mild treatment: Soak the stains overnight in sour milk and then place in the sun without rinsing. Repeat the treatment several times if necessary. If this does not remove them all, try lemon, mangle the stains with lemon juice and allow it to remain in the sun. If the stains are very persistent go to the druggist and ask for a few crystals of potassium permanganate. Dissolve one teaspoonful in a pint of water and apply a little of this to the stains with a medicine dropper or a clean cork and allow it to remain in five minutes. Remove any pink stain left by this chemical with a little oxalic acid. If used with care permanganate does not use a rule take out color but try it first on an unexposed portion of the skirt.

Quotations.

"Do you approve of quotations in speeches?"

"Decidedly. Most speeches would be improved by introducing more quotations and leaving out all the original matter."

TUESDAY CLUB

Mrs. Walter Hudson was hostess for the Tuesday Club, Feb. 11. Fifteen members answered roll call with favorite quotations. After business was transacted, the following program was given:

"Clemenceau—his popularity and leadership"—Mrs. Fred Burman.

"Impressive Scene at Peace Conference"—Miss Gertrude Black.

Mrs. James Tuggle was leader.

In a little contest, consisting of writing a compliment to a certain member, using as the first letter of each word the letters in order "Abraham" or "Lincoln", all members starred. However, in the Presidential contest, seven members, Mesdames W. B. Minnion, E. T. Fabillner, Fred Burman, A. W. Hopper, J. Hughes, Hugh M. Oldfield, and Miss Gertrude Black, had perfect answers. In drawing to untie, Mrs. John Hughes won a 100¢ check.

"Footpath to Peace"—by Harry Van Dyke and Mrs. A. W. Hopper, President of the Club, read a brief letter.
